

Hello Earl,

My name is Robert Valentini and I just read an article in our local newspaper that had your opinions and thoughts about geothermal energy.

I am totally in agreement about green energy and using geothermal is the energy of the future. My questions are two-fold.

First, why did the Federal government and the Provincial government end or stop the grant system (rebate) for home-owners that wanted to “convert to geothermal” from their present heating system?

Secondly, will the Federal or Provincial governments re-introduce the “grant or rebate “ system again?.

Encouraging Ontario home-owners to convert from their present heating system to geo-thermal is the way of the future. Ontario citizens who are concerned about going with Green Energy should get an incentive for switching over.

Thirdly, Do you for-see a grant or rebate system being implemented again in the near future?
